
Stacy Eastland

Investment Management

Houston

Stacy joined Goldman Sachs in 2000 as a managing director in Investment Management in Houston. Prior to joining the firm, he was a senior partner at Baker Botts, LLP.

Stacy is a member of the following organizations: American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (Past Regent), the International Academy of Estate and Trust Law, the American Bar Association (Past Supervisory Council Member), the Texas Bar Association (Texas Bar Association Fellow), the Houston Bar Association (Houston Bar Association Fellow), and the Houston Estate and Financial Forum.

Stacy also serves on the following: Board of Directors of the Kelsey-Seybold Foundation of Houston (Past Chairman), Board of Visitors of University of Texas, M.D. Anderson and University of Texas, Health Science Center, Advisory Council on Planned Giving for the University of Texas, Texas Children's Hospital and the Longhorn Foundation, and has served as a director of the following nonprofit organizations: St. John's Memorial Endowment Fund, St. John the Divine Church (Associate Vestry), Depelchin Children's Center, Institute for Child and Family Services, the Neuhaus Education Center, and Kelsey-Seybold Foundation.

Stacy is listed in the following: Who's Who in America, Who's Who of American Law, and The Best Lawyers in America. In 2004, Stacy was selected as one of ten initial recipients of the Distinguished Accredited Estate Planner award of the National Association of Estate Planners and Councils.

Stacy earned a B.S. with honors from Washington and Lee University in 1971 and a J.D. with honors from the University of Texas School of Law in 1974. He and his wife, Tara, have two children and live in Houston.